How would you advise future travelers to prepare for the journey to and from Israel?

IN THEIR OWN WORDS:

“I’m still talking about this trip weeks later!”

“The places we stayed and the food we ate were perfectly fine. We enjoyed them. They were just not the main things for us. The hotels and food and shopping were not why we went to Israel. The other things were. As for other, we loved the hiking where we were off the beaten path of many other visitors.”

“Every day I kept saying this is my favorite day and then the next day I would say the same thing. It would be impossible to pick my favorite!”

“The interactions with other members of the group were a blessing. Some of my favorite moments were watching others, completely in awe of what they were seeing and making the connection between these awe inspiring moments and their readings from the Bible. There seemed to be many more spiritual moments on the hiking tour (more time to speak with one another, compare notes and add information to those spiritual moments).

I enjoyed everything about my trip. Planning to return two years. I love singing - just thankful for the verse that says make a joyful noise! Enjoyed your guitar, Andy, and singing. Loved singing in the cave! The times we gathered after dinner I enjoyed but also enjoyed our times of sitting around the table and talking there. Loved our food - so many different types - I tried to have something different each night. And the salad buffet for breakfast - yum!

“Seeing more is better, but there is only so much time. I think everything was planned and executed well.”

“We did so much - maybe more time at some places to really listen to what God was saying to me. But then that would have shortened the time some where else. I was in awe every place we went. Tried to take it all in.”

“The only way that I can think of to make the Israel experience better is to add days to the trip. The Biblical aspects of the trip are outstanding, but there is so much more history embedded in Israel that it almost overwhelming.”

“Find some hills and practice a lot! It’s not just physical activity but hill training!”

“It is helpful to read the Study Guide beforehand. Also, it is important to read everything you send beforehand, You already give many helpful tips that helped us a lot. I also believe that praying for God to open my eyes to new truths of the scripture made a difference. He did just that!”

“I tend to feel more secure as a tourist in Israel than in many parts of America. (The people of Israel understand the importance of the tourist trade and they tend to ensure the security of the travelers.)”

“The first night I really noticed the security around our hotel. At first I was alarmed, but then I realized that they were there to keep me safe. And realized how dedicated they are to protecting their land.”
